promise on the part of both Hanlon and President C. H. Ebbets. Hanlon had a confab with Ebbets in Washington late on Mon-day night with the result that the famous manager signed a contract that will expire on Oct. 15, for a salary of $9,000 and no reserve clause. It is understood that Hanlon will not manage the Brooklyns after this year. He went to Lancaster, Pa., yesterday to sign Outfielder Sheckard, after which he will go direct to Columbia, N. C., to take charge of the team. Incidentally, Hanlon in a long statement to the Baltimore News blames his former friend and partners. H. R. Von der winter and the statement of the former friend and partner, H. R. Von der Horst, for his present predicament. Hanlon goes on to say that for several years Von der Horst has been in hard luck and that some time ago he turned over 40 per cent. of the Brooklyn club's stock to Hanlon, who paid him a certain amount with an agreement that if Von der Horst ever desired to sell

Hanlon further declares that Von der Horst, after redeeming his stock, broke the alleged agreement between them by selling out to Ebbets and Medicus so quietly that Hanion knew nothing of the deal until he saw it in the newspapers. In this way Hanion says that he was left at the mercy of Ebbets and Medicus, and was compelled to accept a reduction in salary because all of the other managerial berths had been

In spite of the fact that Garry Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball Commis-sion, has wired to President Bert of the Pacific Coast League that, under the rules of the pa-tional agreement, First Baseman Chase must Coast League that, under the rules of the Dational agreement, First Baseman Chase must play with the New York Americans, authentic information comes from Los Angeles that Manager James Morley has formally signed Chase to a contract for this year and that the player will not come East. Chase was in Los Angeles yesterday, not New Orleans, according to a private despatch from the former city received here last night. Morley explained his action with the statement that he understands that war between the class A minor leasues against the American League has already been declared. If the Pacific Coast League stands for this action, the war will be on with a vengeance. But it will serve to place, not only the Pacific Coast League on record, but also the Eastern, the Western and the American Association, which have been the ringleaders in the intended revolt against the national agreement. The whole trouble has been caused by the refusal of the class A leagues to accept the American League's new system of drafting players, which eighteen other minor leagues, including the Southern, have pronounced eminently fair. The Pacific Coast League has already made a protest to Herrmann to the effect that when Johnson, Haulon and Hart visited California a year ago, in order to induce Bert, Morley & Co. to come under the protection of the national agreement, it was stipulated that the drafting season in California should not begin before Nov. I. Bert says in his protest that, instead of living up to this agreement, players were drafted from his league by both the American, and the National Leagues as early as Sept. I. But, while an attempt has been made to hold on to players drafted by the American, those that were taken by the Nationals were allowed to go.

The Montgomery Handicap, which will be run at Memphis next. Monday, will provide an unusually large field, judging from present indications, possibly as many as eighteen horge going to the post if the weather and trask conditions are suitable. Turf sharps rather favor Capt. Williams's Ram's Horn, but they also believe that E. E. Smatiers, Tichenor's Co. J. W. Fuller and G. C. Bennett's Co. have chances to win the race with their respective starters. At present it looks as if the field would include Ram's Horn, but they also believe that E. E. Smatiers, Tichenor's Co. J. Fred Cook, the Western horse owner and bookmaker, will bring his stable to the Eastern tracks soon, together with Jockey Nicol, who is under contract to him. Cook is the owner of English Lad and other good racers. Nicol will ride for him, but will give second stall to E. R. Thomas, it is said.

Barney Schreiber is all cut up over the death of racing in the State of Missouri. Thave nearly 500 horses at my breeding farm in Missouri, "said Schreiber recently, "and the repeal of the law will be a severe blow for me. But I think that if the right people get together we can get a new law that will place racing on the old basis that made it popular in St. Louis in the old days." With racing abolished in Missouri at the end of the next three months, and the fate of the sport in Illinois hanging in the balance, comes the news that the Tennessee Legislature has abolished race track betting, in which event the Memphis and Nashville tracks will be compelled to close after next December, when the mem law takes effect. This means that the Western Jockey club and the American Turf Association will each lose a strong ally. The passage of the Ligon-Rice bill by the lower house at Nashville by a vote of 50 to 28, following similar action by the Senate, is due to a quarrel among leading politicians in Tennessee, and will practically kill the breeding interests in the State as well as the tracks.

Starter Cassidy, who will handle the bar-rier at the Jockey Club tracks this year, is in town and will leave for Bennings to-mor-row. Mr. Cassidy will have one of his start-ing gates erected at the Gravesend track for the schooling of two-year-olds.

Charley Mitchell's statement that he is willing to fight Jim Corbett to a finish with bare knuckles and that he can get into condition in five weeks for such a mill is not taken seriously by sporting men along Broadway. In the first place, there is no State in the Union that would tolerate a bare knuckle prizefight, and Mitchell knows it. In the second place, Mitchell, who was a back number when Corbett beat-kim in jig time ten years ago, is in no sort of physical condition to stand the rigors of training. The former English heavyweight champion is charitable enough to say that he would not fight poor old John L. Sullivan, except to lay down to him. There are half a dozen middle and welter weight; that would probably make Charley puff like a grampus if he ever got into the ring with any of them.

Jabez White is generally regarded as a boxer, not a gruelling fighter, by the nembers of the short haired fraternity. They think he and Britt will put up a pretty even fight, but they are reasonable sure that White could not go twenty rounds with a puncher like Battling Nelson.

At a meeting of the Brooklyn Base-ball Club in Jersey City yesterday the follow-ing officers were elected: C. H. Ebbets, president: H. W. Medicus, trassurer: H. R. Von der Horst, secretary; C. H. Ebbets, Jr., assistant secretary. These four, with A. C. Wall, were elected directors.

Meeting of Connecticut Baseball League. New HAVEN, March 21.-When the Connecticut Baseball League adjourned its meeting in this city last night not a word had been heard from Attorney Cornelius J. Dansher of Meriden, the owner of the New Haven team franchise, as to whether he intended to put a nine into the field the coming season.

The schedule of games for 1905 was fixed upon and it includes the usual number of games for the New Haven team as in previous games for the New Haven team as in previous seasons.

It is known that Danaher's franchise is for sale and there have been several bids for it, but the terms were not satisfactory to him. Secretary O'Rourke and some of the other directors of the lague believe that at the last moment he will put a team into the field.

The plan of Thomas D. Reilly of Meriden, supervisor of umpires for the Connecticut league this season, which does away with the fining of players, was indorsed by the league. According to Reilly s plan, the player who is to be punished shall be sent from the field to the beach by the umpire instead of being fined.

Dr. W. Howe defeated George Ricker last night in the amateur tournament for the championship of New York at the Broadway Billiard Academy. The score was: Howe, 190; Ricker, 65. A run of 21 made by Ricker was the highest of the evening. Howe's highest was 20.

On Monday night A. Hyman won by default. He was scheduled to play H. Bien, who tailed to appear.

MISS HIGGINS'S CLEVER WIN. Captures Golf Title in Southern California for Second Time.

Miss Mabel B. Higgins of Chicago won on Monday the championship of the Southern California Golf Association, played at the Pasadena Country Club. She won by 9 up and 8 to play in the final, proof positive that she was "hitting them out." Miss Higgins romptly telegraphed the news of her victory to tieorge Strath, at the Crescent A. Miss Higgins also won the Southern Call-fornia title in 1903. Last year she won the women's championship of south Florida at Palm Beach, played annually in February, but she returned to the Pacific Coast for the winter and allowed the title to go by default Mrs. Edward Fitler 3d of Philadelphia. In January Miss Higgins had the bad luck to sprain her ankle, and it was feared for a time that she would have to forego golf until next summer. Her friends, few of whom had heard how well she was progressing, will be agreeably surprised to hear of her win at agreeably surprised to hear of her win at Pasadena.

Miss Higgins took part in the women's championship of Great Britain at Troon last year, the first American player to start in the great competition, but she had the hard luck to be put out by Miss Rhona Adair, after a good match, in the first round. In the fall Miss Higgins played in the women's championship of the United States st Merion, and lost to Miss F. C. Griscom, by I up and I to play. She has been the greatest globe troiter for the last two years of the feminine golfers, and it is announced that Miss Higgins will again try for the British title in May, when the contest will be at Cromer, a seaside English town. This time Miss Higgins will not have to face the field unsupported, for there will be several American players to start. Miss Fanny Osgood of Boston and Miss Borden of Fall River are deemed to be sure starters, with Miss Griscom as a possibility.

At the annual meeting of the Upper Mont-clair Golf Club last night it was decided by vote to join the East Jersey Golf Association and to feature team matches. The board of governors was increased to seven by the election of Joseph A. Bardsley, A. C. Fetterolf, Henry Moir, William Person and Franklin Fisher. The club has had a nine hole course for some seasons, and new tennis courts are to be added at once. for some seasons, and new to be added at once.

S. Mure Fergusson, runner up to John Ball, Jr., in the amateur championship of 1894, has been elected captain of the London Stock Exchange Golf Club. That Fergusson still retains his golf was demonstrated on March 4, at old St. Andrews, when in a three ball match with Robert Maxwell, amateur champion of 1903, and Leslie Balfour-Melvi-le he made a 78. This was eclipsed by a phenomenal score of 70 by Maxwell. This constitutes a record of the old course outside of medal competitions, and when the round is at ordinary, every day length. Going out he did the first nine holes in 38, a good but not extraordinary performance in first class golf, but coming back Maxwell quite excelled himself by taking the last nine in 32-3, 2, 3, 3, 4, 4, 4, 4. Maxwell beat Fergusson by 3 and 2 and Balfour-Melville by 7 and 5. In the afternoon, doing 77, Maxwell also won both the matches. The previous record at St. Andrews under similar conditions was 71, done by both W. Herbert Fowler and Willie Auchterlonie. The Oxford University Golf Club has opened a new course, with a neat clubhouse, at Radley BOUTS OUT OF TOWN. Jimmy Walsh Bests Monte Attell-Other Mills.

Seven clubs held boxing boutscon Monday night last and there was nothing amiss with the sport. Several knockouts occurred, but in most instances the contests went the limit. In most instances the contests went the limit.

Monte Attell, brother of Abe Attell of San Francisco, made his début lin the East in a six round bout with Jimmy Walsh of Boston at the Washington Sporting Club, Philadelphia. The men boxed in rough and tum-ble style, being told to protect themselves at all times. The fight for five rounds was a veritable slugging bee. Ip to that time it was an even thing. But in the flual round Walsh landed several punches on the stomach. Attell held on to the fluish, but was in poor Attell held on to the fluish, but was in poor shape. In the preliminary bout Crockey Boyle of Germantown and Billy Mahong of Foxchase fought a six round draw.

At Plainfield, N. J., in the presence of about a thousand sports from Newark, New York, Elizabeth and Philadelphia, Kid Beebe of Philadelphia and Tony Bender of Elizabeth fought a six round bout under the auspices of the Shamrock Social Club. The mill went the limit, but there was no decision. In the fifth round Beebe knocked Bender over the ropes and would have won then and there had not time been called. There were two preliminary bouts. Jimmy Scarles bested Jimmy Laflerty, while Kid Stein of Newark knocked out Kid Ferris of Elizabeth in the second round.

Simmy Lafferty, while Kid Stein of Newark knocked out Kid Ferris of Elizabeth in the second round.

It only required two rounds for Bart Connolly of Portland, Me., to convince Sam Harris of England that he was not in his class, at Portland, Me. The pair were to have met for twelve rounds. In the first Harris was floored twice and in the second, while Connolly was pounding Harris all over the ring, the referee interfered and awarded the fight to Connolly.

Willie Fitzgerald of Brooklyn scored a rather easy victory over Gus Gardner of Philadelphia at Indianapolis. The bout, which was for ten rounds, went the distance, but through no fault of Fitzgerald, who floored Gardner repeatedly. The reason that Gardner remained the Journey was because he often held on and backed away.

A large crowd attended the bouts held by the Lak ide A. C., Webster, Mass. The main essay was for ten rounds between Dave Deshler of Cambridge and George Ashley of Fall River. The outcome was a draw.

Kid Stinger of Philadelphia was forced to bite the dust in the fifth round of his fight with Albert Delmont at the Haverhill A. C., Haverhill, Mass. The limit was fifteen rounds. Stinger tried to make a quick bout of it, but he received a stiff blow in the stomach in the third round, from which he never recovered. In the preliminaries Teddy Atkins bested Pete Everitt in six rounds, while Gus Ross of South Boston outpointed Young Duffy in six rounds.

Adam Ryan of Chicago received the verdict over Maurice Sayers of Milwaukee in a twenty round bout at Hot Springs, Ark., though he was not entitled to it according to the crowd present. The mill was deuided before the Whittington Park A. C. Sayers appeared to have had much the better of the fighting after the sixth round.

SPENCERIAN BEATEN A HEAD.

AUBUCHON ON CARELESS OUT-JOCKEYS SHAVER.

Texas Smith Puts Over a Good Thing in Lee King-Duke of Kendal Victor in a Heavy Betting Race-Monograph and Irby Bennett Fall at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21 .- The feature at the Fair Grounds to-day was the defeat of Hart Dernham's mare, Spencerian, by Careless. Spencerian was a 2 to 5 favorite, and should have won, but Aubuchon outjockeyed Shaver at the last turn, forcing him to take the inside after he had headed for the outside. The incident did not lose much ground for the mare, but as she was only beaten a head it probably cost her the race. The victory was popular with the rank and file, who pre-ferred the more remunerative price against the winner, but the big bettors paid the fiddler. Texas Smith put another good thing over in the second, Lee King, backed from 10 to 1 to 6 to 1. had been put out, this being a plan of Griffith's to enable his men to get their eye on the ball. Dougherty, Williams, Conroy and Kleinow did the best hitting. The pitchers in the box were Puttmann. Hogg and Clarkson, and the last named let himself out and had the batsmen guessing.

A foul tip from one of Clarkson's fast ones rapped McGuire on the ankle and raised a big lump. Griffith made his pitchers conform strictly to the requirements of the balk rule. There were differences of opinion as to the requirements, and more than one American League pitcher this season is likely to have a balk called on him unexpectedly as a result of Johnson's order to enforce the rule.

The New Yorks had fielding practice this morning. Aleck Smith had on a uniform and took part in the practice. First Baseman Chase is still among the absent ones. Games with the New Orleans team will be played on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday,

OCEAN YACHT RACE. Vessels Fitting Out, but Owners Are Watting

Commodore George Lauder, Jr., of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club has given orders to Capt. James Loesch to have the Endymion overhauled and got ready for the ocean yacht race. Capt. Loesch has had charge of the Endymion since she was built, and sailed her when she made the record of 13 days 20 hours and 36 minutes from Sandy Hook to the Needles. The Endymion is now at the Morse Iron Works. She has not been formally entered yet, but will be before the entries close. Commodore Lauder has held back the entry of this boat because of the illness of his father Dr. Lewis A. Stimson has engaged Capt. Bohlin, a deep water man, to sail the schooner Fleur de Lys in the race, and that yacht will be fitted out very soon. With these two boats the total number of starters will be twelve. There are several yachtsmen who are disposed to take part in the race, but so for very little has been done by the committee for very little has been done by the committee to make known the regulations that are to govern the contest. Those yachtsmen who have entered their boats have done so because they want to see a good race and hope that the conditions that may be framed will be satisfactory to all. If the committee had, however, taken the trouble to consult with the owners of boats that could take part in a race across the ocean, there is no doubt that the number of starters would have been much larger, but yachtsmen, as a rule, do not care however, taken the trouble to consult with the owners of boats that could take part in a race across the ocean, there is no doubt that the number of starters would have been much larger, but yachtsmen, as a rule, do not care to do things in the dark. There are in these waters about thirty boats that could take part in a race like the one coming, and if matters had been presented to them in a favorable light, at least half of these would have entered.

The committee is Commander Hebbinghaus, naval attaché to the German Embassy, Allison V. Armour and C. L. F. Robinson, to mander Hebbinghaus is only representing the Emperor and attending to the work of the race. Messrs, Armour and Robinson are supposed to represent the yachting element here, but they are not representative men and have had very little to do with yacht racing. They have tried to make the race somewhat of an exclusive affair rather than an open contest which would bring together the best of the American boats.

There are lots of things to arrange yet. The details of the start are simple and can be left until later if necessary. The piace for the finish is an important matter though. The race is supposed to end off the Lizard but how close the yachts are to run in has not been decided. The Lizard Light marks one of the most dangerous spots on the south coast of England. The yachtsmen on the racing boats will not have stopped to pick up a Channel pilot by the time they sight that point and to have to do so might cost a boat the race, so that in fairness to all the finishing line should be some distance off the coast. The question of night signals, too, has to be settled, and there are many little details of the contest that owners of yachts like to see in black and white fbefore they agree to take part in the contest. There are still several days before the entries will close and with a little energy on the part of the committee it is thought that the number of starters might be increased.

Two things that trouble the yachtsmen have been settled. Auxi the Atlantic.

The Thistle, Commodore Tod's entry, will be in commission by April 15. Commodore Tod will sail his boat in the race himself. He is his own captain and navigator and will be the only owner who will do this in the contest.

the contest.
Capt. Lem Miller is to have charge of the Ailsa and that yacht will be ready about the middle of next month to get tuned up.

ATRIETICS PAY AT MICHIGAN. Trainer Fitzpatrick Says It Is Worth 8500 a Year to Make 'Varsity Team.

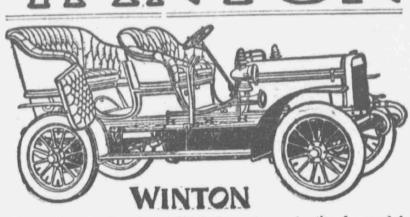

According to Keene Fitzpatrick, athletic trainer of Michigan University, professional-ism is rampant at that seat of learning, where it is said to be worth $500 a year to be an athlete. This surprising statement was inathlete. This surprising statement was included in an appeal to the students during the last week to come out and train for track and field events, but perhaps it was meant differently from the way the public viewed it. Says Fitzpatrick: "There is not a year when we do not have eight to ten more requests for teachers who can give instruction of this kind than we can supply. This is something that the majority of students who are fitting themselves for teachers seem to have overlooked, and we get many letters from former students who are engaged in teaching asking us for information as to how to give this sort of instruction. A Michigan man does not necessarily have to be a star athlete to fill a position of this kind. There are many advantages in being able to give athletic instruction. Among other things, a teacher can often command $400 to $500 more a year in salary."

A Western report bears out this statement

salary."
A Western report bears out this statement A Western report bears out this statement by saying that it is worth $1.000 a year to get on the Michigan football eleven, and if a man makes the all Western team it is said to be worth $1.500 a year, and for the very short season of three months. It is not yet known in what light the Michigan alumni will receive Fitzpatrick's statement, but it is the first time that Michigan's athletic reputation has been exploited as financially valuable to the general body of Michigan students. Fitzpatrick makes a good offer to the men who will come out and embrace the new "study." Though they never may develop ability to get on the big teams, he says he will teach them all the tricks by which they can show other men how to succeed on the cinder path or gridiron.

AUTOMOBILES.

Proper Lubrication Is of Vital Importance to the Successful Operation of a Motor Car.

Mr. Winton has given this subject a great deal of study. Other mechanical engineers who are devoting their energies to the betterment of automobile construction have given, and are still giving, a great deal of thought to it. They are thinking and experimenting in the hope of a solution. They HAVEN'T got it. Mr. Winton HAS. It is a feature of our 1905 construction.

It is necessary, for the successful operation of a four-cylinder vertical high speed motor, to have an automatic oiling system, one that will positively lubricate all bearings, with absolute exactness as to quantity, accommodating itself to variable motor speeds, during every minute the motor is running, no matter if roads be smooth or rough, and no matter if the car be going up or down hill. We have that system PERFECTED, and we have it EXCLU-

WHITE LEAVES TO-DAY.

English Lightweight Champion and Mitchell to Start for San Francisco.

The unfavorable weather kept Jabez White, the English lightweight champion, indoors yesterday. White has been besieged by re-porters, has had his picture taken in all sorts of poses nearly two dozen times and has been interviewed about 100 times, actual count. Prizefighters do not receive this attention in England and the whole thing was a novelty to the Briton.

to the Briton.

White and Mitchell have planned to start for the Pacific Coast to-day. White's bout with Britt is assured, but a date has not been selected. The way it looks now Britt and White will have it out some time between April 24 and 29. Mitchell said yesterday to THE SUN reporter that White would only require three weeks solid training. If he leaves to-day, presuming that the trip will consume a week, as Mitchell is going to stop over in Buffalo for a day, White will have over a month to get into trim if the pair meet over a month to get into trim if the pair meet on April 29.

Mitchell's reason for visiting Buffalo is due to the fact that he wants to see his son Charles Alexander Mitchell, who is being educated at one of the colleges in that city. Young Mitchell will accompany his father to San Francisco and assist in getting White into shape. Charles Alexander is a clever fellow with the gloves, strong and vigorous, and Mitchell thinks that he is just the sort of boy to work out White.

Athlete Lightbody Gets Political Job Through "Hinky Dink."

Word has reached here from Chicago that James D. Lightbody, the crack runner of Chicago University, has gained a political job through the influence of "Hinky Dink"

Kenna, the First ward politician, and he has notified Trainer Moloney that he will not compete in the dual meet against Wisconsin Lightbody was counted upon to win at least 10 points for the Marcon, and a number of his friends tried to persuade him to compete, but all to no use. It appears that he thought more of First ward lucre than of athletic glory. It is not known whether Lightbody will carry the Marcon colors in any future events.
